About Tilburg

The Tilburg plant is located in the southern Dutch province of North Brabant, in the geographical center of Benelux. With three train stations and an hour and a half from Amsterdam or Brussels by car, Tilburg is a logistical hub in Central Europe.

The Tilburg Fun Fair is held in July annually and is the largest festival in Benelux. Additionally, Tilburg offers a number of cultural attractions, like museums and public art installations. Large forests and public parks also make Tilburg a destination for outdoor activities.
